3. Data collection on our website

In order for our website to function technically, it is necessary, as with regard to all websites, that we sometimes store small files on the devices of our website visitors.

What is a cookie?

A cookie is a small file that is stored on the user's computer or mobile device when visiting a website. The cookie enables the website to remember, for example, entries or settings made by the user (user name, language, font size and other display parameters) for a certain period of time, so that users do not have to enter this information again each time they visit the website or switch from one page to another.

You can review and/or delete cookies at your discretion. You receive more information about this at aboutcookies.org. You have the option to delete all cookies already stored on your computer, and you can configure most browsers to block cookies. However, if you do so, you may have to manually adjust some settings each time you revisit a website, and you may not be able to access some services and features.

Borlabs cookie

This website uses Borlabs cookie which sets a technically necessary cookie to store your cookie consents. Borlabs Cookie does not process any personal data. The Borlabs cookie stores your consents that you gave when you entered the website. If you wish to revoke these consents, simply delete the cookie in your browser. Storage of log files

Upon each website visit, our system logs data and information from the computer system of the calling up PC in an automatized way. For this purpose, the IP address of the user has to remain stored at least for the duration of the website visit. Further storage might be possible. In this case, the IP addresses of the users will be deleted as soon as the ring memory overwrites this address again. Use of Google Analytics

If you have given your consent, Google Analytics, a web analysis service of Google Ireland Limited ("Google") is used on this website. The use includes the "Universal Analytics" operating mode. Google Analytics uses "cookies", which are text files placed on your computer, to help the website analyse how users interact with the site. The information generated by the cookie about your use of this website is usually transferred to a Google server in the USA and stored there. However, if IP anonymisation is activated on this website, Google will reduce your IP address within Member States of the European Union or in other states party to the Agreement on the European Economic Area beforehand. We would like to point out that on this website Google Analytics has been extended to include IP anonymisation in order to ensure anonymous collection of IP addresses (so-called IP masking). The IP address transmitted by your browser in the context of Google Analytics is not merged with other Google data. For more information on terms of use and data protection, please visit <https://www.google.com/analytics/terms/gb.html> or <https://policies.google.com/?hl=en> .

When you access the website, your browser loads the required fonts into its browser cache in order to display text and fonts correctly. jQuery technologies

This site uses the jQuery service to optimize loading speeds and the design and display of the content of our website on different devices. This is a service of the jQuery Foundation, hereinafter referred to as "jQuery".

In order to deliver the content of our website quickly, the service uses JavaScript libraries. Corresponding files are loaded from the CDN server, insofar as they are not already available in your browser cache due to a visit to another website. In the case of a connection to the CDN server, your IP address is recorded. It cannot be ruled out that a connection is made to a server outside the EU. The legal basis is Art. 6 para. 1 lit. f) GDPR. Our legitimate interest lies in accelerating the loading times of our website and optimizing our homepage. To prevent the execution of the Java Script code of jQuery in total, you can install a so-called Java Script blocker, such as noscript.net or ghostery.com. However, if you prevent or restrict the execution of the Java Script code, for technical reasons this may mean that not all content and functions of our website will be available.

5. Newsletter

Insofar as you have given your consent, Sendinblue is used on this website for the sending of newsletters. The provider is Sendinblue GmbH, Köpenicker Straße 126, 10179 Berlin, Germany.

Sendinblue is a service with which amongst others the sending of newsletters can be organized and analyzed. The data you enter for the purpose of receiving the newsletter is stored on Sendinblue's servers in Germany. If you do not want Sendinblue to analyze your data, you must unsubscribe from the newsletter. For this purpose, we provide a corresponding link in each newsletter message. With the help of Sendinblue, it is possible for us to analyze our newsletter campaigns. For example, we can see whether a newsletter message was opened and which links, if any, were clicked. In this way, we can determine, among other things, which links were clicked on particularly often. Sendinblue also allows us to subdivide ("cluster") newsletter recipients based on various categories. In doing so, the newsletter recipients can be subdivided according to the selection of the desired newsletters. In this way, the newsletters can be better adapted to the respective target groups.

The processing of the data entered in the newsletter registration form is based exclusively on your consent (§ 6 para. 1 lit. b KDG). You can revoke your consent to the storage of the data, the e-mail address and their use for sending the newsletter at any time, for example via the "unsubscribe" link in the newsletter. The legality of the data processing operations already carried out remains unaffected by the revocation.

The data you provide for the purpose of receiving the newsletter will be stored by us or the newsletter service provider until you unsubscribe from the newsletter and will be deleted from the newsletter distribution list after you unsubscribe from the newsletter. Data that has been stored with us for other purposes remains unaffected by this.

After you have unsubscribed from the newsletter distribution list, your e-mail address will be stored with us or with the newsletter service provider in a blacklist to prevent future mailings. The data from the blacklist will only be used for this purpose and will not be merged with other data. This serves both your interest and our interest in complying with the legal requirements for sending newsletters (legitimate interest within the meaning of § 6 para. 1 lit. g KDG). The storage in the blacklist is not limited in time. You can object to the storage if your interests outweigh our legitimate interest. For more details, please refer to the data protection provisions of Sendinblue at: <https://de.sendinblue.com/datenschutz-uebersicht/?rtype=n2go>.

We have concluded a contract with Sendinblue in which we oblige Sendinblue to protect our customers' data and to not pass it on to third parties.
